The time period for reply, if any, is set in the attached communication.

Office Action Summary	Application No. 10/772,386	Applicant(s) TAMAMOTO, JUNICHI
	Examiner RAKESH KUMAR	Art Unit 3651

-- The MAILING DATE of this communication appears on the cover sheet with the correspondence address --

Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) OR THIRTY (30) DAYS, WHICHEVER IS LONGER, FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Status

- 1) ☒ Responsive to communication(s) filed on 20 April 2011.
- 2a) ☒ This action is FINAL. 2b) ☐ This action is non-final.

Final Rejection

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claim 16 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Referring to claim 16. Claim recites the limitations "J, L and h" in line 18. There is no description as to what the disclosed variables represent, furthermore the cited variable are not discloses in the applicants drawings. Appropriate action is required.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 16 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Kawasaki (US 7,296,795).

Referring to claim 16. Kawasaki discloses an apparatus for handling sheets (Figure 17), comprising:

a movable sheet transfer member (1d) having a transfer surface (surface of 1d) for contacting a selected one of the sheet (P) and transferring the selected sheet (P) along a transfer direction (forward direction as shown in Figure 17);

a sheet supporting surface area (10a) for contacting the selected sheet (P), and an information reader (20) arranged along the transfer direction so as to face a surface the selected sheet (P; see Figure 17) which is being transferred and delimiting an information reading range (above member 4) within which the information contained on the selected sheet (P) is readable from the selected sheet (P) by the information reader, the information reading range including an information reading point (above member 4) at which the information contained on the selected sheet is read, wherein when viewed from a direction perpendicular to a thickness direction (as in Figure 17) and the transfer direction (sheet feeding direction) of the selected sheet (P) such that the sheet supporting surface area (including 4 and 10a) would be extendable in a direction parallel to a support line direction (see parallel orientation of member 10a) which passes the information reading range (above member 20), Kawasaki does not specifically disclose an equation as being satisfied.

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have modified the teachings of Kawasaki to have included an incline angle wherein the transferred sheet intersects the sheet supporting surface area by varying the contact force of the sheet transfer surface because it would allow the movement of the transfer sheet in a more controlled manner.

Art Unit: 3651

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 1,3,7-12,14,15,17-21,25-27 and 29 are allowed.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to claim 16 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection. See new rejections above.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
